

Nicholas Thor Page

thor@thepages.net | 1-434-218-8241 | Charlottesville, VA 22968

EDUCATION:

George Mason University, Fairfax VA. Expected to graduate in December of 2023.

B. S Computer Science. GPA 3.2

Completed Coursework: Data Structures, Formal Methods and Models, Computer Systems and Programming

In-Progress Coursework: Software Engineering, Technical Writing

RELATED EXPERIENCE:

Undergraduate Teaching Assistant, George Mason University, Fairfax VA (January 2022-Present)

- Worked with graduate teaching assistants to instruct 25+ students in weekly course labs
- Answered 10+ student questions in an online forum every week
- Focus on the C programming language and lower-level programming concepts

IT Intern, Albemarle County Public Schools, Charlottesville VA (Summer 2019)

- Cataloged student laptops, diagnosing what parts needed to be repaired or replaced
- Repaired student laptops by replacing broken components
- Re-imaged laptops for over 13,000 students to use in the new school year

PROJECTS:

- Various programming assignments for coursework. (C, Java)
- Various assembly-level programs for “EXAPUNKS” video game. (Some programs smaller than top percentile of user submissions, many smaller than tenth percentile.)
- Mobile recipe application with a social media element for semester-long project. (In-Progress)

TECHNICAL SKILLS:

Proficiency in C, Java, Python, Lua, JavaScript

Basic experience in PHP, Rust, HTML/CSS, Lisp, NodeJS, React Native, Flutter